

Announcing a public forum on
Remarkable facts about Armenians

"What makes Armenians so remarkable?" Since Noah landed on Ararat, the long 4,000-year history of the Armenian nation is naturally punctuated with many fascinating people, places, and events. In this first in a series of public forums, three experts offer little-known facts about Armenians in the Diaspora.

14 June 2023, Wednesday 6-7:30 pm

Fordham University, 113 W. 60 St. (+ 9th Ave), NYC, room 604

Welcome: Melissa Gazal, M.Ed., Fordham

Armenians at Legal Crossroads

Souren A. Israelyan, JD,
Armenian Bar Association

Armenians in New York City

Harold Takooshian, PhD,

Armenian Behavioral Science Association

Discussant:

John Halebian, JD,
Armenian Bar Association

All are welcome. Beverages are served.

NOTES: The host for this public forum is the Armenian Society at Fordham University.

Cooperating groups: ABSA (Armenian Behavioral Science Assoc), ArmenBar (Armenian Bar Association), AAA (Armenian Assembly of America), FIRST (Fordham Institute for Research, Service, Teaching). For any details: takoosh@aol.com

